Celle-ci était la véritable lumière, celle qui, en venant dans le monde, éclaire tout être humain.

John 1:9

Bonjour!

Un WE'RE IN!

May rode the metro early, hustling onto the letters campus with transcripts in hand. Her mission – to sign next year's Stint team up for French classes. At seven in the morning she found the doors open, and a line forming outside. Someone waiting in line was passing out numbers; she handed May number 69! Inside the hallway foreign students were packed like sardines. Three hours later, she was finally to the head of the line. "I'm almost out of places!" exclaimed the woman helping her. There are only 200 openings at the university for foreign students to take French, and she put the number 200 into May's application folder! Thank you for your prayers! We are all signed up to study French on the university campus of Mirail.

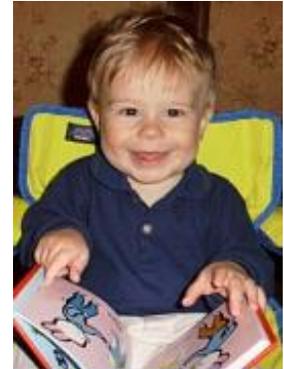

Deux SAY WHAT?

Dan was talking with Marcos at a café nearby. He'd given him a booklet about knowing God personally wanting to know his thoughts. In France, people have trouble looking through any other lens than science and logic. But Marcos said that God is something you just have to feel, there's no reasoning about it. France is diverse! Is faith a feeling or an intellectual belief? Paul defines faith as "being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we believe." May we all be sure of what we're hoping for!

Trois MORE ANSWERED PRAYER!

Next year our team will have a total of four. Katrina Eggen and Molly Gillen will join us to continue our pioneering ministry in Toulouse. We are thankful to have their help! Their very presence will be an answered prayer. Another answered prayer is our finding a new apartment! Silas will have his own bedroom, more room to play and we will have better accommodations to have students over! We will still be in the center of town, a short walk from at least two large parks. God hears your prayers, and acts!

Quatre POLITICAL EARTHQUAKE

We were shocked along with everyone else in France when a presidential candidate most describe as racist and fascist took second place in the primary election. Most unsettling is the stark reality that France's social ills are leading them down a dangerous path. Crime being the hottest issue, 17% of the French voted for a candidate who blames most all of the nations ills on immigrants, proclaiming a policy of expulsion. Their President received only two percentage points more. We pray that God would use these events to show the pride of their nation and the sinfulness of the human heart. God often uses difficult situations to draw people closer to Him.

Please pray...

- For next year's team to retain vital contacts made this year
- For our safe travel to the U.S. for the summer (we will be back from June 4 to August 18)
- For Katrina's and Molly's preparations to come to Toulouse in August
- That God will use the political climate in France to bring people to Him

The Lord's blessings to you!
Dan, May and Silas
