Celle-ci était la véritable lumière, celle qui, en venant dans le monde, éclaire tout être humain.

Un CULTURAL MANIFESTATIONS

The Toulouse summer project team has arrived! Their first day we sent them on a scavenger hunt finding prices for phone cards, hours for the cheapest cyber café, and looking for the room number of the English Foyer on campus. It was quite an adventure. Toulouse also came through with a cultural display – tens of thousands of demonstrators marching through downtown. We had four demonstrations in the course of two weeks, with three more days of strikes and protests scheduled this week. The two hot issues at the moment are retirement reform and the decentralization of the educational system. This creates a good atmosphere for conversation, which the summer project team is already benefiting from.

Deux MINISTRY IN ACTION

It's exciting to see the summer project splitting up to cover all three University campuses in Toulouse. Praying as they go, they're stepping out in faith trusting God to work behind the scenes and through them. Being an American and speaking little or no French is actually their primary ministry tool! It gives them liberty to be different, approach students, be curious, and ask questions – even spiritual ones. At the same time, that difference is the biggest obstacle from going deeper in the relationship. You can see their incredible need to depend upon God! They're already asking great questions, making friends, relating their own story, and sharing the Gospel! After spending a year going out alone on campus, it's refreshing to see.

Trois ASKING IN FAITH

Many of you have been asking how you can pray for us more specifically. Your prayers have been fundamental for us this year. Thank you so much for praying! Here are some very specific ways you could pray for us now.

Please pray...

- For the many students in contact with the summer project team, that God would soften their hearts and that they would accept the Gospel!
- That next year's team can hit the ground running, connecting with many contacts from this year without too much distraction from settling in and cultural adjustment.
- For our safe travel to Montana on June 20th, and quality time re-connecting with family and friends.
- There is one excellent possibility for housing for the five months we'll be in the Twin Cities. Please pray that it would work, or that the Lord would provide an alternative.
- We will likely purchase a car for this time of transition and preparation to return to Europe, but our time in Minnesota could be challenging since Dan will have to drive to the office every day leaving May and Silas at home with no transportation. Please pray for a good solution for them!
- For continued faith and dependence on God as we continue to answer His call!

The Lord's blessings to you!
Dan, May and Silas
