

LA LUMIÈRE

October, 2003

Dan and May Workman
Serving with Campus
Crusade for Christ

Celle-ci était la véritable lumière, celle qui, en venant dans le monde, éclaire tout être humain.

John 1:9

Hello friends!

Un SPREADING THE VISION

One of our biggest responsibilities right now is to meet new people and invite them to become part of our support team as you have. Just last weekend a couple hosted several of their friends for lunch to meet us and hear about our ministry. It was an encouragement to us and also to them. Just two weekends ago we had the opportunity to participate in a missions conference hosted by the church we grew up in. Dan gave his missions testimony in all four services and spoke to the high school and jr. high group. These are neat ways for us to share what God is doing in our hearts and the vision He's given us for the future. Do you know anyone who would be encouraged, as you have been, to be involved with us in ministry?

Deux HOW ABOUT SILAS

"What are we going to do with a baby?" Silas asked before bedtime. Last week Silas found out that he's going to have a baby brother. He doesn't quite know what to do with all this new information, but we're praying the Lord prepares him to be a great big brother. Silas enjoys going to gymnastics. He'd love to show you their stretches (they call it making a peanut butter sandwich). He also loves listening to books on tape from the library. "What's that says?" he asks pointing to the words. In fact, he likes asking questions so much he'll ask the same ones over and over and over. His favorite character now is Thomas the steam engine. So Thomas and his friends are regular parts of our conversations with Silas. Do you ever wonder how God feels about our conversations with Him?

Trois SHARING OUR HEART

God knows our hearts, and that is where he wants our lives to be changed. Last time we shared how God took a modern definition of an idol and helped us see our incredible need to depend only on Him. This dependence goes right to the core of the Gospel. God wants us to know the liberating freedom of counting on Him. This is truth we can celebrate every day. We're forgiven because of God. We're accepted because of God. We're empowered because of God. And we're blessed because of God. The Gospel isn't just something we're asked to share with other people - it's something to live in every day! When things have gotten frustrating and cloudy we've stopped to ask, "How does the Gospel apply to our present situation?" The simple stopping to remember that God loves us and died for us so that we can know Him brings clarity and perspective to life's troubles. What a great lesson to learn for this past year, which was especially difficult at times. May you enjoy Jesus today and bask in the good news of the Gospel!

His abundant blessings to you!
Dan, May and Silas

Please pray...

- For God's provision as we continue to build our team of supporters.
- For our baby boy's health as he grows and develops.
- For May's patience as she's constantly barraged with questions.